

Harbinger Systems Honored in the 2011 Mobile Star Awards

Harbinger Systems Wins The 'SUPERSTAR' Awards For Product Excellence And Market Leadership

JANUARY 09, 2012:

Harbinger Systems, a leading provider of software engineering services to some of the world's best product companies, today announced that 'TripSketch' a mobile application developed by Harbinger Systems has been declared a winner in the 10th Annual Mobile Star Awards program hosted by MobileVillage.com. The application enables users to plan their trip around the world and is available for iOS, Android and Symbian platform for Nokia devices. Harbinger Systems and TripSketch are recognized winners across two different categories:

'SUPERSTAR' award in the category Consumer App: Navigation or Travel

'SUPERSTAR' award in the category Consumer App: Specialty Social Network

The 10th Annual Mobile Star Awards program showcases "best of" entries in dozens of categories covering mobile apps, wireless network solutions, enterprise mobile software, enterprise success stories, technology visionaries, and more. Award winners are chosen via online ballot by the subscribers of MobileVillage's, bi-weekly email newsletter Go Mobile.

Swati Ketkar - Executive Director, Harbinger Systems said, "We are excited to receive this recognition across two categories. We are thankful to MobileVillage readers and our customers across the world for choosing Harbinger Systems as their favorite. In the ever-expanding mobile ecosystem, the enterprises are moving to develop and deploy mobile centric business strategies and we at Harbinger are proud to be associated as the trusted mobility partners for these enterprises."

The mobile software development practice at Harbinger Systems builds interactive mobile applications for iOS, Android, Windows Phone 7, BlackBerry and Symbian. Harbinger Systems has vast expertise in building enterprise applications, consumer utility applications, rich games, extending applications to mobile platforms and cross platform solutions using native as well as HTML 5 technologies.

As commented by Gary Thayer -Director, Mobile Star Awards "The Mobile Star Awards pits today's most exciting new mobile products and companies against established competitors, and the thousands of mobile-savvy readers of 'Go Mobile' choose the winners". "In this way, winners are chosen by real users who really love the product."
