PUNE, INDIA; REDMOND, WA, OCTOBER 21, 2015

Harbinger Systems, a global company providing software technology services, today announced that it is participating as a Speaker and an Exhibitor at the Cloud Expo West, from November 3-5, 2015 at the Santa Clara Convention Center, CA. Managed by Sys-Con Media, the 17th International Cloud Expo brings the world of Cloud Computing, Big- Data/analytics, Internet of Things and DevOps on one platform.

"Participating as a speaker and an exhibitor for the third consecutive year makes this event special for us. This is an excellent platform to meet with industry veterans and exchange views on Cloud, Data Science and IoT. We are making investments in R&D and incubation initiatives in this realm; helping our customers stay ahead of the industry. We are thrilled to be taking part in Cloud Expo event," said Suhas Joshi, Vice President- Technology, Harbinger Systems.

Harbinger's this year highlight at Cloud Expo will be one-of-a-kind session 'Harnessing the power of linked open data cloud for better decision making' on November 3, 4.40-5.15pm, track-Enterprise Cloud Adoption. Harbinger GM- Technology Solutions and Senior Architect team will talk about the approach to access, re-organize and load valuable data from linked open data cloud in your environment to enable Big-Data Analytics. This session will also touch-base on real-life examples as how some companies are benefiting by the implementation of dataset from open data cloud for making informed decisions in their practice. The presentation will also share the use cases and implementation approach in healthcare where open data analytics can help in creating innovations.
