Harbinger Systems Wins Workato's Public Voice for Content Quality Award at the 2022 Automation League Partner Kick Off

Harbinger Systems wins a prestigious recognition from their HRTech integration and automation partner, Workato. The company secured the Quality Content Award in the 2022 Public Voice contest at this year's Workato Automation League Partner Kick Off.

Redmond, WA – March 4, 2022: Harbinger Systems, a global company providing software technology services to independent software vendors and enterprises, won the Public Voice for Content Quality Award at the 2022 Workato Automation League Partner Kick Off (PKO). Workato, a leading enterprise automation platform, announced the winners of their fourth annual Partner Awards on March 3, 2022.

The Content Quality Award that Harbinger Systems secured in Workato PKO's 2022 Public Voice competition highlights excellence in Workato-themed content creation from partners.

As part of their submission for the 2022 Public Voice competition, Workato Automation League partners shared great stories about Workato, dreams about how they can change the future together, and reasons why they are part of the Automation League.

Focused on Workato-based solutioning, Harbinger Systems' submission included one webpage, one video, one case study, and two solution briefs:

- Webpage: Harbinger + Workato partnership
- Video: How Workato and Harbinger deliver HRTech solutions
- Case Study: Successful integration of high-volume hourly hiring platform
- Solution Brief: Integration with ADP Vantage
- Solution Brief: Integration with multiple organization systems/applications

"2021 was the best year in Workato's history, and the global partner program has been a key driver of the global enterprise automation movement," said Markus Zirn, SVP of Business Development and Strategy at Workato. "Partners play a key role in Workato's vision to transform organizations with enterprise automation. The success of our partner program is an outstanding win for joint customers, and we are thrilled to honor the hard work of our partners with these awards."

Seema Chaudhary, Chief Alliance Officer at Harbinger Systems said, "It's been a wonderful journey being a Workato partner while contributing to their objective of transforming enterprises with automation. Workato's 2022 Partner Kick Off is one of their powerful initiatives to help enterprises worldwide understand the value of automation and how they can leverage it to achieve better results. Harbinger is thrilled to have won the prestigious Quality Content Award from Workato, and we look forward to participating and winning awards in other programs like the Public Voice contest.”

The Workato Partner Awards 2022 recognized partners continuing to demonstrate outstanding commitment to customers. 25 partners across six regions were recognized by Workato. The 2022 Workato Automation League PKO saw 340% registration growth over 2021. It included announcements of key program milestones like 61 new Automation League partners, a 20% increase over the previous year.
